

MILLCREEK Journal

The News of Mt. Olympus, Canyon Rim, Millcreek & East Millcreek

Year 3 Issue 10

October 2007

FREE!

Business Spotlight

Millcreek Retirement Residence Encore Senior

By Peri Kinder

Getting older doesn't need to be a hardship – especially if you're able to live in a caring environment like the Millcreek Retirement Residence. Located at 777 East 3900 South, this senior living center offers an elegant atmosphere with the comforts of home.

Moving into one of the 73 luxurious apartments allows residents to relax. Whether you enjoy an independent lifestyle, or you need a little assistance from the trained staff, the Millcreek Retirement Residence is the perfect place.

"It's a unique, small, family environment," says marketing director Jon Beach. "It's a place to call home."

An entity of Encore Senior Living, the Millcreek Retirement Residence has catered to the over-62 crowd for 11 years. Millcreek administrator Matt Whitter has operated the facility for 10 years and Jon says Matt's dedication to the senior living center is unparalleled.

"A lot of senior communities are always changing their administration and nursing staff," Jon says. "We don't want our residents to go through constant changes. We want them to have some stability."

Part of that stability is knowing there's assistance available 24 hours a day. Perhaps residents need a reminder to take medication at the right time or maybe help with bathing and dressing is necessary. The staff at Millcreek Retirement Residence is trained to offer respectful, private and friendly service.

The personal apartments at the center are close to onsite amenities like salon services, activity rooms, fitness programs and the computer lab which offers Internet and e-mail access. Dining areas are warm and inviting, and residents are provided three meals a day. Apartments are equipped with refrigerator/freezers and microwaves for in-room meals or snacks. Families are always welcome at the center, especially for the annual barbecue.

A full schedule of activities is planned for residents at Millcreek Retirement Residence, from Wendover trips and canyon drives to shopping or attending musical performances. With weekly housekeeping, a highly trained and licensed nursing staff, and the freedom of independent living, residents can experience relaxation like never before.

New residents have the bonus of relocation assistance. "We have a professional moving company that will pack and move residents," Jon says. "We also give a bonus for referrals."

Quality medical care is important to the staff at the senior living center. Medication can be administered, rides to doctor appointments are scheduled and speech and occupational therapy is available. An in-house podiatrist offers residents complete foot care services and Millcreek Retirement even offers hospice care.

"We are a Level 1 and Level 2 state-licensed community," Jon says. "We offer the highest level of care."

For more information about the Millcreek Retirement Residence or Encore Senior Living, call 288-0700 or visit www.encoresl.com.